

₹120

The Ideal Home

The Ideal Home and Garden, June 2017 Vol 11 Issue 8

and Garden

8
Women who changed architecture

THE BEST OF Gorgeous Grey Decor

A Timeless Trend:
GEOMETRICS

Influence of India

Forms, motifs & patterns that will stand the test of time

Sonali Rastogi, Morphogenesis

The founder partner of Morphogenesis, Sonali Rastogi has co-authored Morphogenesis' first monograph 'Morphogenesis: The Indian Perspective, The Global Context', published by Images Australia under their Master Architect Series. Her work spreads across a diverse canvas ranging from architecture to urban design, landscape and interior design. Passionately interested in the materiality and craft in architecture, Sonali is deeply invested in the detail of building.

Additionally, Sonali who strongly advocates arts and crafts, is a founder member of Manthan, a platform for creative individuals who seek to share, discuss, engage with and evolve concepts and ideologies. She says, "We in India are fortunate to have a range of crafts, so it is only natural that international designers look up to us for inspiration. I would like to see designers taking a collective responsibility to find new ways to modernise these crafts that are at risk of dying out."