Academy wins award for architecture

Pearl Academy of Fashion Jaipur bagged the 'Best Learning Building Award' in World Architecture Festival Awards (WAF) 2009 held at the Centre Conventions International, Barcelona. It was selected from 611 projects entered from all over the world during the summit. The award winning building is designed in such a way that helps in controlling the temperature of internal spaces. The temperature remains at 28 degrees Celsius inside the building even if it is 46 degrees outside. The WAF Awards form the biggest architectural awards programme in the world and are designed to celebrate and showcase the work of the international architectural community.
