Morphogenesis Bags SIA-GETZ Architecture Prize 2014

Sonali and Manit Rastogi, of Delhi-based architectural design firm Morphogenesis*, have been awarded the SIA-GETZ Architecture Prize 2014. The prize seeks to bring recognition to Asian architects, who 'through their vision and commitment have made a significant contribution in shaping the changing landscape of Asia, and to honour a living architect's remarkable career that is in progress'. The jury at SIA GETZ Prize ceremony felt the duo's works were rooted in the culture, climatic, social and economic conditions of India.
